GERMAN LINE WAVE

Residence in Ashes

The residence of J. M. Workman, a few miles south of Claresholm, was completely destroyed by fire Thursday afternoon. The upsetting of a lamp in the attic had started a fire in the house on Wednesday night. This was thought to have been entirely extinguished but it is now supposed that the fire had dropped down between the walls and smouldered away since last night, to break out this afternoon. The alarm was given in town by telephone and many of the citizens went to the scene of the fire. Two chivalrous were taken from the town, one attached to the motor car of G. M. Godley and the other to the car of John Walls. These were successful in keeping the fire from the more northerly of the three houses toward which the wind was blowing. It was impossible to save the central house and only a small portion of the contents were saved, among these being the piano and some bedding. The north cottage was smoking more than an hour before the fire in the central house had burned down. The volunteer fire brigade made record time over the three miles to the scene of the fire. The loss is fully covered by insurance.

Charity Box Social

The Claresholm Band has taken steps with commendable spirit to assist in the relief of a very serious case of need which has lately been laid upon the citizens of Claresholm. A widow woman, with eight children, one an infant in arms, facing the winter with absolutely no resources, is a case that must bring sympathy even from the most indifferent. The band will hold a box social in the Parish Hall next Tuesday evening. Music will be provided and the boxes will be auctioned with a view to meeting some of the exigencies of this charitable project. It is desired that every lady will arrange to attend and bring a box. Even if all the boxes are not sold, the food will be acceptable to the stricken family. Every division of this town should attend and the evening will not only be enjoyable as a social gathering but be a partial discharge of the debt which we all owe to the unfortunate.

Promises Record Attendance

Those interested in the Provincial School of Agriculture at Claresholm, which is under the direction of the Board of Agricultural Directors, and the Hon. Duncan Marshall Minister of Agriculture for the Province of Alberta, are re-assured that the academic year, 1914-15, commences on October 27th.

In spite of the fact that crop conditions in Southern Alberta this year have not been the best, the attendance at the School for this next year promises to be even larger than last year, thereby showing the place that such an institution is finding in the Province of Alberta. The students who were in attendance last year, almost without exception will return to the school for the associate diploma in Agriculture and Domestic Science that is granted by the department of agriculture to students successful in the prescribed two years' course.

Owing to the limited accommodation, the Claresholm school, will not be able to register more than 150 students this next year, so that those who intend to enter the school this fall should make application at once if they wish to be admitted, otherwise, their applications may have to be kept on the waiting list. All information will be freely given. Apply to Principal W. J. Stephen, Claresholm.

Officers Not Changed

The provincial convention of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union concluded its business Monday afternoon after being in session since Friday last. All the officers were re-elected, namely: President, Mrs. McKinney, Claresholm; vice-president, Mrs. Langford, Calgary; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Burckle, Edmonton; recording secretary, Mrs. Kent, Medicine Hat; treasurer, Mrs. Craig, Olds; "Y" secretary, Miss Clara Lockrem, Carleton Place; T. L. secretary, Mrs. Grace Boyd, Calgary. The next convention will be held at Medicine Hat.

The meetings have been most enthusiastic throughout as Mrs. Unruh, national organizer, who delivered addresses on some side of the work at every session, did not permit the work to lag. All departments reported excellent work during the past year.

Obeys the Law

That there are many cases of illegal Sunday selling in Claresholm is an undisputed fact. That there is a law prohibiting the selling on Sunday of anything but the legitimate meals to be eaten on the premises, is equally well-known. That it is manifestly unfair to compel the hardware man and the grocer, and the dry goods seller to close their doors tightly on Sunday and let the man who serves meals and thus has a legitimate excuse for the open door, sell cigars, fruits, candies, cans of meat, etc., is acknowledged. Hence a word of warning will not come amiss. There are those in this town who intend seeing to it that the law is observed by the hotel or restaurant as well as by the grocer on Sunday and it would be much to the advantage of the law-breaker to desist from doing rather than from doing. Whether the law is good or bad, matters not. It is the law.

CLARESHOLM LOCALS

Some from this neighbourhood were in Claresholm on Friday last week where a British officer purchased for the army over 50 head of horses.

A Souvenir From the Sea

W. T. Cochran is possessed of a rather interesting souvenir, a picture post card recovered from the wreck of the Empress of Ireland. The postal authorities had recovered the entire packet mail bags and returned to the sender all mail of which the sender could be identified. This card is slightly discolored but is otherwise not disfigured.

Another peculiar instance of delayed mail delivery was told the editor this week. An account has been placed for collection in the hands of a local firm at Regina seven years ago. The account had been paid and a money order, drawn by the amount, mailed. The letter by mistake sent to an uncle in South America, travelled to Africa, wandered here and there the while world over and at last a short time ago reached the gentleman, for whom the collection had been made, here in Claresholm.

Settled Satisfactorily

The visit of Mr. Geste, of the Canadian Western Gas Co., has been the means of settling in a very satisfactory manner the long-standing grievance of those farmers whose property is covered by the gas company and whose fields are crossed by the telephone line in connection with the company's operation. By means of a cash rental and a definite agreement regarding the cutting of the weeds and the supplying of gas to the farmers, the most discontented farmer is said to be perfectly satisfied and the status of the company with the farmer has been definitely placed. It is to the credit of our local member in the provincial house that this action has been taken and this old sore healed.

A Painting Epidemic

Fred Watkins' paint brushes are busy this week on Railway St. The store of W. M. Ross, hardware merchant, is resplendent in a coat of fresh paint and the name, Moffatt & Sons, which for several years was associated with this business, is replaced by the name of the new proprietor. The paintbrush has also received a coat of paint and the sign freshened up. The new building of Hong Chong has got its first coat and promises to be a splendid addition to the stores on Railway St. Signs announcing the Jas. Clark Co. sale are also the work of Mr. Watkins.

For Sweet Charity's Sake

The Advertiser believes that it is not only wise but necessary that public acknowledgment should be made of donations and subscriptions secured for purposes of charity. Where individuals are made secure funds for these commendable purposes, publicity is necessary to avoid duplication of charities and effort. It is the desire of this paper to aid in this publicity and the names of donors to these funds will be published in our columns. The necessity of a note on the Vlatky home during confinement caused Mrs. R. M. Larkin to collect funds for this purpose from the citizens. Following is the list of names and amounts contributed: G. W. Clark, 25; G. M. Godley, 1.00; R. S. Heston, 5; J. L. Edmund, 50; L. G. Shortland, 50; Frank Murray, 1.00; G. Gibbs, 50; C. F. A. Leeds, 1.00; Mrs. Jas. Clark, 1.00; H. O. Hacham, 55; O. L. Reinecke, 50; W. J. McKinney, 5; L. Reinecke, 50; R. E. Moffatt, 50; D. H. Heston, 1.00; J. F. Reynolds, 1.00; Norman Mackenzie, 50; J. R. Watt, 1.00; E. Jones, 1.00; H. R. Tilden, 50; W. M. Ross, 1.00; Geo. Simpson, 1.00; T. C. Miles, 1.00; Fred Thomas, 50; Mr. J. M. Soley, 2.00; M. Fisher, 1.00; Total, $20.50.

Chicken Pie Dinner

This annual festival under the auspices of the Ladies' Aid Society of the Methodist Church will be held on Thanksgiving night, Oct. 12th, only one week from next Monday. The ladies are preparing to provide all good performance and an excellent dinner will be served in the church basement commencing at 6 p.m. A programme of music, etc., will be given in the body of the church at 8:30 p.m. Admission to the dinner and to the concert is 25c. This affords a pleasant means of enjoying Thanksgiving evening. Take your guests with you.

Please Return It

Some time ago, we allowed some one to borrow a book containing a mailing list which we had given some time and attention to compile. The borrower has failed to return the same and we should be glad to very great inconvenience to replace this list. We should be very obliged if this list should find its way back at an early date.

"I wish I were very dear in his eyes," the devotion of a girl who had never loved thus was so painfully true. The count had been struck upon her by the marriage with Leslie. He had loved her for some eighteen months to two years, during which the girl had turned him to his radiant devotion, and only when she had reached the peak of her life in a gay city which she delighted in, living like a little bird. And at last she had come, and now Leslie was free once more, and a rich girl into the bargain.

And now the old fascination stirred her more in Harold's heart. Sitting there, in the darkness thereof, still, she felt a little of the old fascination stirred her more in Harold's heart. Sitting there, in the darkness thereof, still, she felt a little of the old fascination stirred her more in Harold's heart. Sitting there, in the darkness thereof, still, she felt a little of the old fascination stirred her more in Harold's heart.

At the conclusion of the opera the little party of four went to the supper, given by Lady Evelyn Thorne, a mutual friend, and there was some discussion as to whether they should do this or have supper at the Savoy, but Harold gave the word, and they went to the supper.

At the supper, Harold and Leslie were sitting in the hall of the theatre. Alice took the opportunity of the brother's hand. "You're getting so beautifully, Harold," she whispered. "I'm glad, but don't forget that Leslie is going away from London on Saturday, and that you'll see her again, too."

"I'm glad," returned Harold. "To the same tune," he said. "I don't know that I have ever loved her so much as I do now. I don't know that I have ever loved her so much as I do now. I don't know that I have ever loved her so much as I do now."

Nevertheless, the spell still upon him, he carried Leslie to the first opportunity to see her. Lady Evelyn, the hostess, a fair, blond woman, of comfortable proportions, with a double chin suggesting a porpoise, and good living, beamed after them as they disappeared.

"That good-looking brother of yours has quite eyes for you," said Lady Evelyn, she remarked to Alice of whom she was very fond, "and he loves her less this time but"—she shook a rat freckler in Harold's direction. "I'm afraid he's a cheeky little fellow, but I'm sure he's got a heart as big as my own."

"I'm glad," returned Harold. "To the same tune," he said. "I don't know that I have ever loved her so much as I do now. I don't know that I have ever loved her so much as I do now. I don't know that I have ever loved her so much as I do now."

"I'm glad," returned Harold. "To the same tune," he said. "I don't know that I have ever loved her so much as I do now. I don't know that I have ever loved her so much as I do now. I don't know that I have ever loved her so much as I do now."

admire. As I pride myself upon knowing his taste."

After having, having before her a view of the determined and rather handsome young woman who had not the callous countenance of Leslie, even then at the house of Wynne, she really felt that she had not friend who was not showing her usual face.

"The 'interdependence' type of girl was the very best," said Alice. "I don't wonder that attracted. Alice was not attracted. Alice was not attracted. Alice was not attracted."

WHEN PAY DAY COMES

Six Million Dollars Distributed
C.P.R. Employees Each Month

On the 15th of each month, the C.P.R. will pay in wages over a whole system $6,000,000. This is a monthly record in round numbers. 1,000 cheques being drawn every month. It seems only the day before yesterday when 53,000 cheques were drawn to represent the tremendous monthly wage list. The number of employees grows all the time, in spite of re-employment and economic work. These monthly cheques find their way into the most distant, the odd places. The first is to the employees to the distant parts of British Columbia. They find their way to the construction camps, removed from civilization. They reach the employees

And whether the times be good or bad, the office is always running. For failing, the 300,000,000 have to be paid in the fifteenths of each month to the mine. The exceptionally strong position of the Canadian Pacific has enabled it to make a large reserve fund, and it is always making more than its dividend, with ample funds at its disposal. There has been as far as the shareholders are concerned, no retirement during the past few months. The Canadian Pacific company has parted with any of its employees; but it has not unduly taken a few work necessitating the employment of new hands, or the dispersment of sums other than those already arranged for under older programmes. No man in the service of the company, high or low, has any doubt about that monthly cheque which will be honored in all parts of the Dominion.

His nephew is a man of small stature, but he has always aroused the admiration of the old man.

"I have come to say good-bye," announced the applier to the old man. "I am starting abroad to be gone a year—perhaps longer. I thought: might never—we, you understand—wanted to be sure to see you one more."

Tea and Coffee to Postum

The large army of persons who have found relief from many chronic ailments by changing from tea and coffee to Postum as a daily beverage is growing each day.

It is only a simple question of trying it for oneself in order to know the joy of returning health as realized by this young lady. She writes:

"I had been a coffee drinker nearly all my life and it affected my stomach—caused indigestion and I was seldom without a headache" (Ten is just as injurious because it contains the same drug, caffeine). "I had heard about Postum and how beneficial it was, so I decided to quit coffee and try it."

"I was delighted with the change. I can now sleep well and seldom ex-

have headache. My stomach has gotten strong and I can eat without suffering afterwards. I think my whole system greatly benefited by Posture. "My brother also suffered from stomach trouble while he drank coffee but now, since using Posture, he feels so much better he would not go back to coffee for anything."

Instant Postum—is a soluble powder. A teaspoonful dissolves quickly in a cup of hot water and, with cream and sugar, it has a delicious beverage instantly. 30c and 50c tins.

FREE WAR MAP

Every Reader of The Advertiser May Have a War Map Free

A Map 3-1/2 X 2-1/2 feet, showing clearly every boundary every city, every town, village, hamlet and river in the whole European War area. Each map in a neat folder of convenient size.

The Family Herald and Weekly Star of Montreal has secured exclusive rights for the War Map prepared by the celebrated map firm of G. W. Bacon & Co., Ltd., of London, Eng. It is beyond question the most comprehensive map printed.

The Advertiser has completed arrangements by which our readers can secure a copy of this excellent map free of charge.

Here is Our Offer Good for 30 Days Only

The price of The Family Herald and Weekly Star, Canada's Greatest Newspaper, is one dollar a year.

The price of either The Claresholm Advertiser or The Stavelly Advertiser is one dollar and a half a year.

We now offer both papers for one year each, including a copy of The Family Herald's War Map, size 3-1/2 X 2-1/2 inches, in a neat folder of convenient size for only $2.00.

This offer applies to all subscribers, new or renewal, who pay for the two papers inside next 30 days from this date.

To follow the war situation intelligently The Family Herald War Map is necessary. It should be in every Canadian Home.

F. Stuart-Whites' All-Star English Musical Comedy Company, of 10 people, will be the attraction at the Opera House on Tuesday evening, Oct. 8th. This is the third Canadian tour of this clever company but their first visit to Clareholm, although they are well known locally from their engagements at the Grand, Calgary, and English Bay, Vancouver and it is at the request of those who have seen and enjoyed their performance that the I.O.O.F. have brought them to this town.

Five-Mile

Leo Schoof gave a dance for his friends last Wednesday evening.

Suddenly as Nels Hansen or our friends will not know where to address us.

O. A. and Mrs. Finstad, A. M. Berg and Mrs. O. J. Berg spent two days in the hills last week. Good fishermen say that it is too late for good fishing but this party got a fine lot.

Everyone who was afflicted with la grippe is recovering nicely.

T. P. Mosley and family, Mrs. B. A. Annabel, Mrs. O. W. Mosley, Mrs. P. T. Gibbie and Mrs. Gunderson went to the Hills last Friday and returned on Sunday. There was the usual rain but they caught a fine lot of fish and thoroughly enjoyed the outing.

Mr. T. P. Mosley and family are removing to Clareholm for the winter to take advantage of the schools.

Organized for Charity

A rather slimly attended meeting was held in the I.O.O.F. Opera House last evening at which was organized a branch of the Canadian Patriotic Fund and officers appointed. Mayor Holmes is Honorary president, Dr. B. F. Stevens was elected president, J. R. Watt is secretary, Geo. Simpson is treasurer and an executive committee is to be selected by these officers to consist of 12, six ladies and six gentlemen. This committee is to have the collection and disbursement of a fund created for charitable purposes. The wise selection of the committee will commend itself to those who appeal to the public for donations or subscriptions as a fair and consistent distribution of the help obtained will be assured. There will be no unwise duplication of charities nor waste in its dispensation. Had there been time for proper advertising of the time and purpose of the meeting there would no doubt have been a large and enthusiastic attendance but the main object has been secured, namely, the organization

Lyndon

Mrs. R. E. Routding, of Calgary, has taken the position as housekeeper on the Lyndon Ranch.

P. J. Fair was in Clareholm on Monday.

Cons. Poir paid a visit to this district last week.

THE MAN BEHIND

A banking institution gets strength as much from the men who direct its affairs as from the actual capital invested. Money deposited in men well known for business integrity, and earnestness who value security more than high profits. To this policy is due a surplus which is one quarter larger than its Capital—the result of over 40 years conservative management.
